ARRIVAL

After being approved in September 2011, we arrived in Chile as BBFI Career Missionaries in September 2012. During the last four months of 2012, we adapted to the culture after eight years away from Chile. We were able to find an apartment, ship our belongings, and work in the Church my father planted and was pastoring for the last five years in Iquique.

OVERSEEING

During this year, I oversaw the church in Iquique while missionary David Reinhardt went on a nine-month furlough. During this period, we were able to help another missionary and get hands-on experience in missionary work as a senior Pastor. We joyfully sow growth in the congregation.

BIBLE STUDIES IN ALTO HOSPICIO

The year started with fantastic growth in the church in Iquique until an 8.4 magnitude earthquake hit us. The city was paralyzed in progress due to fear of a greater one. By July of this year, we started a bible study in the nearby city of Alto Hospicio with three other families from the church of Iquique. By the end of the year, we were without space and ready to start a mission in Alto Hospicio.
